DETAILED ACTION

Applicants' amendment dated 09/14/2005 has been received and entered. By the amendment, claims 1-10 and newly added claims 11-14 are now pending in the application.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 6 and 10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejections as follow:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

2. Claims 1-3, 6-7 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C 102(a) as being anticipated by Applicants' admitted prior art (APA), figure 3.

The above claims are anticipated by APA's figure 3 and accompanying text which disclose an IPS liquid crystal display (LCD) device comprising:

- . a first substrate (11) having a color filter (112);
- . a second substrate (12) having electrodes (122), an insulating film (124) and a rubbing alignment layer (125)(see [0007])

Note: the method of for manufacturing the device is merely a list of forming each component and each component must be formed to make the device; therefore, the method of for manufacturing would be inherent to the device

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 3-5, 8-9 and 12-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over APA, figure 3, in view of Gillian et al., US Patent No. 5,861,931.

Regarding the above claims, APA discloses the claimed invention as described except for the based material for the alignment layer (polyimide, polyethylene or polystyrene) as well as the alignment treatment method (lithographic, light treatment). Gillian et al. do disclose an alignment layer (10) can be alternatively formed by rubbing and/or light and/or lithographic (col. 3, lines 36-51). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of the invention was made to employ the APA's alignment by rubbing and/or light and/or lithographic (with corresponding material), since it is a common practice in the LCD art to form a structure thereon (e.g., pretilt angle).

Double Patenting

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re

Art Unit: 2871

Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

6. Claim 10 stand provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 10 of copending Application No. 10/805,472. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both application disclose an IPS LCD in which only one alignment film is applied to only one of the first substrate and the second substrate.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

It should also be noted that Applicants stated that a terminal disclaimer has been submitted; however, it is yet not in file.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
